Hudson, MA -- (ReleaseWire) -- 01/27/2016 -- AIRTEK, a disaster recovery and heavy appliance cleaning service in Massachusetts, has launched a new website making it easier to find and learn about the company

HUDSON, MA -- "AIRTEK, Inc., one of Massachusetts' premier cleaning services for disaster recovery, mold removal and HVAC ductwork cleaning, has launched a new website, AirtekMA.com.

"We felt it was time to update things. We needed a website that was more mobile friendly and more accurately told the public about our services," said company owner Neil Maloney. "The Internet is the place to get your name out. You also have to have a user-friendly site so people can find what they need."

The new website offers easy navigation and clear page links within the site. Mr. Maloney said that was a very important part of setting up AirtekMA.com.

The home page slowly cycles through the main services the company offers. Each page gives a viewer plenty of time to read the content.

A link bar near the top of the page allows viewers to find more information about AIRTEK and the services offered. The Services popup menu clearly shows everything the company does.

"We want you to know what we do. We want you to understand what we do," he said. "Once you get that information if you have any questions, every page has a contact form and our phone number. If you have questions, we want to answer them."

The new website also features a blog where customers can find valuable information about duct cleaning, water damage, mold remediation and more.

"We're going to offer quality information for our customers and everyone else to use. It's not going to be a giant advertisement for AIRTEK. You can read the blog and get maintenance tips you can do at home. You can learn about how to prepare for and recover from water damage," Mr. Maloney said. "We'll tell you about the problems mold can cause and how mold can spread."

AIRTEK chose SoaringAway.com to build and maintain the new website.

"They have a great reputation and the price was within my budget. The site is professional, easy to navigate and the maintenance costs are reasonable," Mr. Maloney said.
